Position Description:

Oxygene IP is looking for a part-time Senior Trade Mark practitioner to join our team and participate in management of trade mark portfolios for Oxygene IP clients.

The position is nominally 2-3 days per week and flexible hours and some work-from-home arrangements are available. The position has arisen due to retirement of a Senior Trade Mark Attorney.

The practitioner would work closely with three very experienced patent & trade mark attorneys.

The role includes;

- Curating current trade mark portfolios for local and overseas clients,
- Providing advice regarding trade mark and branding issues, including infringement issues, for local and overseas clients,
- Attending teleconferences and other meetings with clients,
- Filing trade mark applications and attending to renewals, and
- Managing trade mark oppositions and non-use removal actions as they arise.

Preferably, a suitable practitioner will have at least 10 years of experience in the trade mark area, and (i) registration as an Australian Trade Mark Attorney, or (ii) qualification as an Australian or New Zealand legal practitioner (but a current legal practicing certificate is not necessary). The practitioner must be an Australian/New Zealand citizen, or Australian permanent resident.

Enquiries should be directed to Dr Nigel Parker, Oxygene IP Director, at njp@oxygeneip.com
